Conjunct characters:

A conjunct is typed by pressing [x] between the consonants.

e.g. [n][x][n] → ନ୍ନ

A non-joined conjunct is typed by pressing [shift x] between the consonants.

e.g. [n][shift x][n] → ନ୍ନ

Alternative: To change to a non-joined conjunct, press the backtick [`] key after it.

e.g. ନ୍ନ [`] → ନ୍ନ

Dependent/Independent Vowels:

The keyboard will normally produce independent vowels, except after consonants, when it will produce dependent vowels.

e.g. [i] → ଇ

[g][i] → ଗି

To force an independent vowel after a consonant, press [a] after the consonant.

e.g. [g][a][i] → ଗଇ

Alternative: To change one type of vowel to the other, press the backtick [`] key after it.

e.g. ଗଇ [`] → ଗି [`] → ଗଇ

Alternate forms:

In addition to altering conjuncts and vowels, the backtick ` key can produce changes like these:

e.g. ଧ ` → ୪ toggle digits: script ⇔ roman

" ` → " toggle smart quotes on/off

Alternate characters:

Various related characters can be obtained by pressing the same key again without pausing.

e.g. ନ → ନ୍ ନ → ଣ ନ → ଣ୍ ନ → ଣ୍

If you actually want a sequence of the character, either pause or press a in between.

e.g. ନ ନ → ଣ ନା ନ → ନ୍ନ

Smart Quotes:

Press the single quote ' or double quote " key again to switch between left and right smart quotes.

e.g. " " → "

Brackets:

Press the open or close parenthesis key up to 3 more times to obtain alternative forms of bracketing.

e.g. ((→ [[→ { { → }

Note to Advanced Users:

If you need an independent ZWJ or ZWNJ character (very rare), type `space` followed by `x` or `shift x` respectively.
